Mr. Dickerson For Councilman.

M. M. Dickerson, known to his legion of friends as "Cap" Dickerson, announces in this issue for the Democratic nomination for councilman. A good Democrat, a progressive and a clever citizen and popular with all classes, he should make a strong race, and his most staunch supporters insist that he is a sure winner. Mr. Dickerson asks that the voters give his claims consideration before they vote in the race for councilman from his ward.

Racing Dates For Fall Are Announced

Kentucky will have 48 days of racing this fall, as against 59 last year. It is announced by Secretary Pelham Johnston, of the Kentucky State Racing Commission, that the following dates had been allotted the tracks: At Lexington, September 11 to 20, nine days; Douglas Park, Louisville, September 23 to October 3, eleven days; New Louisville Jockey Club, Churchill Downs, October 8 to 18, ten days; Latonia, October 20 to November 8, eighteen days.

Stole His Pants.

A burglar entered the home of Mr. T. K. Hamilton Tuesday night and stole that gentleman's pants. In the pockets were a bunch of keys, a knife and $4 in cash. It is not known how the entrance to the home was effected, but as Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton keep an incandescent light burning all night, the intruder must have been a very one. Unlike most of men, Mr. Hamilton had more than one pair of trousers and was able come down town at the usual hour on Wednesday morning.

Geo. W. Metcalf Dies On His Train

We made brief mention in our Tuesday's issue of the death of a Pullman car conductor on his train near this city. His full name was George W. Metcalf and his home was in Cincinnati. The body was taken to that city and prepared for burial. He was 32 years old and had not been well for some two years.

He was a brother of Deputy Sheriff Jas. Metcalf, of Cincinnati, with whom he made his home.

Shouldn't We Welcome Them?

Lexington business men, 100 or more strong, will be with us nearly an hour Wednesday evening next, between the hours of 7 and 8. Would it not be a good idea to have a few of our people meet and welcome them to the best little city in all Kentucky? While they are telling of Lexington and her many advantages, we might say a few words in behalf of Richmond, seems to us. And we have the people who can do it handsomely. Go and hear the band concert, anyhow.

Died of His Wounds.

Harry W. Bowman, who was stabbed at Cruces Ferry in Rockcastle county, Monday, died Wednesday of his injuries and his body was brought here for interment at 2 o'clock. He and a tenant named Harrison Holt had some words over stock eating down some corn and it is reported that Bowman drew his pistol and that Holt rushed in and stabbed him. Holt took to the woods and has not yet been apprehended. Mr. Bowman was for years the senior member of the mercantile firm of Bowman & Cockrill, which did an extensive business at Livingston. He was a gentleman of means and a clever man and good citizen. He was a first cousin of Mr. L. T. Wilson, city collector of Richmond.

The Fish Fry An Enjoyable Affair.

The fish fry given by the doctors, dentists and druggists of Madison county at Lake Reba Thursday afternoon was a thoroughly enjoyable affair. There was a superabundance of the best fish mortal man ever tasted and a sufficient supply of good Lake Reba water to wash it down. Then, too, there was a bottle or so of strawberry pop and a small quantity of hop juice, or malt med, or root beer, or some other fluid of amber color.

The meeting was called to order by Dr. J. G. Bosley, president of the Madison county Medical Society, who gave all present a hearty welcome. The minutes of the last meeting were read and were adopted. Dr. Stanley G. Zinke, who recently removed to Richmond from Cincinnati, was admitted to full membership.

Scientific and highly interesting papers were read by Dr. J. W. Schodder, representing the M. D.'s and Dr. R. C. Boggs, the dentists. The former's subject was "Past Partum Hemorrhage," and the latter's "Modern Anaesthetics and Analgesics." Both papers were heartily enjoyed and discussed at length.

Edwin C. Wines, Jr., representing the druggists, read a practical paper entitled "The Modern Pharmacist of Today." This furnished much food for thought and the lengthy discussion that followed, showed how Mr. Wines' effort had impressed his brother pharmacists. He was warmly congratulated when the business meeting came to an end.

The social hour that followed can better be imagined than written about. As stated above, delightful fried fish were served with light drinkables and other refreshments and the purest Havanas were passed around. It was an altogether happy occasion and many a wish was indulged that the annual fish fry would be made a monthly or a weekly affair.

Dr. D. J. Williams invited the body to meet at Boonesboro in September and by a rousing vote accepted.

The following physicians were present: Drs. M. Dunn, J. W. Schodder, D. J. Williams, M. C. Heath, S. G. Zinke, Lucien J. Treadway, C. E. Smoot, J. F. Eakin, H. M. Bosley, H. C. Jasper, J. G. Bosley, C. H. Vaughn, H. G. Sandlin, John Rutledge, W. L. Carman, W. K. Price.

The dentists were: Drs. R. C. Boggs, H. J. Patrick, H. M. Blanton.

The druggists were: H. L. Perry, B. L. Middleton, E. C. Wines, Jr., John W. Farley, Hart Perry, Ambrose Wagers, W. G. White.

The guests were: Judge W. R. Shackelford, T. H. Pickels, T. H. Hart, Judge J. J. Greenleaf, Joseph Giunichigliani.

Chautauqua

Kryl and His World-Famous Band, The Ben Greet Players and Many Other Big Attractions

Morning, Afternoon and Evening Programs for Seven Days

ONE OF THE COMING BIG EVENTS IN THIS SECTION OF THE STATE

THE forthcoming Chautauqua which is to be held here will be one of the big events of the season in this section of the State. There are today nearly 1,500 Chautauquas in the United States and Canada. In fact, the Chautauqua has become one of America's greatest institutions, and the idea has already spread to England and Japan. In 1872 there was not a Chautauqua in the world. In 1873 Bishop John H. Vincent and Lewis Miller inaugurated at the spot now called Chautauque, N. Y., the original institution. Today Chautauque, New York, is the summer center for 10,000 people, and its land building and equipment represent a cost of millions.

But, although thousands of people go annually to Chautauque, N. Y., from all parts of the United States, the great mass of American people would never get to a Chautauqua if they had to travel far from home. The recognition of this fact brought about the decision to take Chautauquas to the people everywhere. The movement a few years ago began to spread rapidly. Today there are operated from the Redpath headquarters in Iowa, Kansas City and Chicago nearly 900 Chautauquas. Only the best talent is engaged, as high as $15,000 having been paid by the Redpath for a single attraction for the Chautauqua season. Every year the number of Chautauquas grows, and there are more requests annually from towns wishing to be Chautauqua centers than can possibly be granted.

Our Work Pleased Them.

Judge W. R. Shackelford called at the Climax office yesterday and said: "I want to congratulate you people on the way you set up and printed the financial statement of the county, the list of claims, etc. It was a good, clean job and we are very much pleased with it." Praise from Sir Rupert is praise indeed. We are always glad to please and are proud to be able to state that we have workmen who know their business and who served apprenticeships at the case, in the job department and at press work. The best workmen are none too good for the Climax.

Negro For Legislator.

For probably the first time in the history of Louisville, a negro has become an aspirant for a seat in the Kentucky Legislature. He is Lee Brown and he is a candidate for the Republican nomination for Representative in the 50th district, the territorial boundaries of which are coextensive with the 10th ward, the political Darktown of the metropolis. Brown is one of the editors of a colored newspaper that has been demanding more liberal recognition for the "man and brother" from the Republican party. This district has almost uniformly sent a Republican to the Legislature.—Louisville Times.

Of Course It Should Have Been "Undivided."
The Climax printed some statements for the Madison National Bank the other day and in them a rather egregious error appears. In the surplus and undivided profits column the word "divided" appears where "undivided" should have been. The average newspaper man knows very little about banking, except to overdraw, if the banker will permit him, and the word "divided" sounds so much more liberal and unselfish than "undivided," that he could not keep from substituting the one for the other. So when you read the pretty statement, think "undivided" where divided appears.

A Splendid Statement

Did you read the splendid statement of the county's finances which appeared in Tuesday's Climax? If you did not and have lost your copy of the paper, call in and we will supply you with another cheerfully. You should by all means read it and post yourself on your county affairs, her financial condition, etc. To us it is really good to live in a county so well managed, with a judge and a fiscal court who know how to handle public monies. Bids, and a goodly number of them, have been built, the pikes have been kept in better repair than any in the State, save probably those of Fayette, all bonds that could be paid off have been called in and disposed of, the county is run on a strictly cash basis and has money out at interest. Ain't that a record? It is not the pleasure of the Climax to know all of the members of the fiscal court, but it does know Judge Shackelford and several of the magistrates and it feels to congratulate them and their colleagues on the splendid condition they have gotten the county's financial affairs into. Again we insist that you read the financial statement and see how well the money you have paid in as taxes has been spent.

Lighting Plays Havoc

The large stock barn on the farm of Mr. W. E. Luxon on the Tate's Creek pike, some two miles from this city, was struck by lightning during the storm Wednesday afternoon and burned. There were ten fine horses in the building belonging to Mr. Luxon and Mr. Irvine Hume and five of them were destroyed. One, a roan colt and a fine animal, was killed by the bolt that fired the building. This animal belonged to Mr. Luxon, who also had burned to death a two-year-old filly and a yearling colt, both by Lakeland Jay, and out of a Jay Bird mare. Jim, a 5-year-old pacer with a mark of 2:15 and valued at $1,000, was gotten out, but she ran back and was cremated. This mare was the property of Mr. Hume, who also lost a splendid green trotting mare, which promised to be a record-breaker. Ten tons or more of hay belonging to Mr. Luxon, was also destroyed, while several paraphernalia went up in flames. Lakeland Jay, the magnificent stallion with which the above gentlemen are making the season, was being driven by them, or he too might have shared the fate of the horses that were burned. Mary Maupin, 2:11 1-4, and Miss Douglas, also very fast, the property of J. R. White, and in the Luxon and Hume stable for training, were gotten out by the hand of Q. Parks' Mary Boo was also saved, as was Mr. Luxon's stallion pony. The barn cost over $1,000 and the other losses must foot up $5,000 or more and there was only one insurance policy—$500 on the barn. There were in the barn when the lightning did its work, Mr. George Martin, who runs a pool-room on First street, his son-in-law Prof. Robertson, of the county, James Potts, the well-known trotting horse driver, and three negro boys. Potts was knocked down and stunned, but he revived in time to help save several of the horses. Two of the negroes aided in getting the horses out, but one took to his heels and was still running when last heard of. Messrs. Martin and Robertson did not get out until they had saved the animals and the property. The horse driven by the latter gentleman was standing hitched in the barn when the bolt came, but was backed out without much trouble. The financial loss falls heavily on Messrs. Luxon and Hume, but the loss of their splendid horses, of which they had right to expect much, is a harder blow than the loss of money.

FELLOW DEMOCRATS.

The school interests of our County demand at this special time a man of strong physique, cultured mind, good business talents and pronounced moral worth, to fill the important office of superintendent of the Public Schools. Such a man is B. F. Edwards of College Hill who has earned a successful reputation among us as a successful instructor of youth, a gentleman in every respect and a loyal and true Democrat.

If he is elected we feel sure that the schools of Madison County will receive a forward impetus that will result in great good to our girls and boys.

We commend him as fully worthy of the vote of every honest Democrat. Go to the polls and work for Edwards.

Cow "Ad" Did The Work.

Mr. George P. Martin dropped in this morning and asked that his cow advertisement be discontinued, saying that he had bought the kind of a cow he wanted from Mrs. Louis Schlegel. By the way the little four-line local brought many applicants, three within two or three hours after the Climax had been delivered by its special carriers.
